

Hearts On Fire

Across the desert, and through the sand
Righteous pilgrims bound for the promised land
A holy hunger, unquenching thirst
Impassioned convicts freed by the second birth

Saints in ages past dared to take Your name
Many paid the price by goin' against the grain
Standing up for the truth in the lion's face
With their Hearts On Fire
Hearts On Fire...

A new millenium, a different time
But people do what's right in their own eyes
We measure standards, with plastic truths
And make the nations pay for the crimes we do

Still Your legacy stokes a burning flame
For those who'll wear the cross,
And not despise the shame
Voices rising up to proclaim Your name
With their Hearts On Fire
Hearts On Fire...
